

1 in 20 women develop preeclampsia during pregnancy

1 in 100 women develop severe preeclampsia, HELLP Syndrome or eclampsia

Preeclampsia is the most common serious disorder in pregnancy

KNOW THE SIGNS AND SYMPTOMS

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

PROTEIN IN URINE

SWELLING OF HANDS, FACE OR FEET

SHOULDER OR ABDOMINAL PAIN

HEADACHE

SUDDEN WEIGHT GAIN

VISION CHANGES

UNEXPLAINED NAUSEA (NOT MORNING SICKNESS)

CAN ALSO HAVE NO SYMPTOMS

*In Australia
Around 200 babies die each year as a result of preeclampsia*

*Between 2008-12
nine Australian women died from preeclampsia*

Regular monitoring during pregnancy allows earlier diagnosis, treatment and better outcomes

If you are worried about something in pregnancy, always ask

